

Eglantina Kraja

She was born on December 23, 1976, in Erseke, Albania. She completed primary and secondary school in her hometown. She completed her basic studies in 1999 in Tirana, while she completed her first Master's in "Public Health Management" in 2012 at the Faculty of Medical Sciences in Tirana, and she completed her second in Psychology in 2020 at the Faculty of Psychology at Fama College in Pristina. In 2016, she studied Nutrition and Dietetics at the Italian Academy of Mediterranean Diet in Nicotera, Italy. In 2022, she is licensed as a Clinical Psychologist

She defended the topic of her doctorate: "Emotional and behavioral problems in children of war veterans in Kosovo" on 27.10.2018 at the Faculty of Social Sciences with the profile of Psychology - Pedagogy at the European University of Tirana.

From 1999-2002 she worked as a manager in the Primary Health Service, QSUT, and the "IKEDA" Clinic in Tirana. In 2014 she worked as a senior official for Monitoring and Evaluation at the Ministry of Health and from 2015 she held several positions as Dean of the Faculty "Of Care and Welfare for Children", Pro-Rector at Fama College, Coordinator at the "Italian Academy of Nutrition" in Pristina.

In June 2022, she was elected with the rank of Assistant Professor. She worked as a lecturer-professor in several universities and colleges, inside and outside the country, and she currently works as a university professor. She has participated in over 70 papers in international and national scientific conferences and over 25 publications in scientific journals.