

Hajrullah Fejza, PhD, is an Associate Professor at UBT and a certified clinical sexologist with extensive experience in medical sciences, epidemiology, and sexual medicine. He holds a PhD in Clinical Sexology from the American Academy of Clinical Sexologists and a Master of Medical Sciences from the University of Prishtina. His academic work includes teaching Human Sexuality and contributing to clinical, epidemiological, and public health research.

Dr. Fejza has published widely in international journals, covering topics such as sexual health, clinical case reports, infectious diseases, epidemiology, and healthcare quality. His publications appear in journals including The Journal of Sexual Medicine, International Journal on Minority and Group Rights, IIUM Medical Journal Malaysia, EJCRIM, Infectious Disease Reports, and others.

With over a decade of managerial and professional experience—including roles at the National Institute of Public Health, Municipality of Prishtina, and the Ministry of Health—he has contributed to quality assurance in healthcare, public health policies, and clinical guideline development. He is a long-standing member of several professional organizations, such as the American Board of Sexology, the European Society for Sexual Medicine (ESSM), and the European Federation of Sexology.