Course description	The Digital Diplomacy course explores the dynamic intersection of technology, diplomacy, and international relations. It aims to provide students with an in-depth understanding of the strategic use of digital platforms, emerging technologies, and communication tools in diplomatic practice. Through theoretical analysis, case studies, and hands-on exercises, students will critically examine digital diplomacy's opportunities, challenges, and ethical implications in the 21st century.
Intended learning outcomes	Analyse the theoretical foundations and conceptual frameworks of digital diplomacy. Explore the strategic use of social media, digital communication tools, and emerging technologies in diplomatic practice. Examine the role of digital diplomacy in public diplomacy, crisis management, and multilateral cooperation. Evaluate digital diplomacy's ethical and legal challenges, including cybersecurity and privacy concerns. Develop practical skills in designing and implementing effective digital diplomacy strategies.
Contribution of this course to the learning outcomes of the module (or program)	The goal is to provide students with a structured approach to evaluate the ever-changing world of digital diplomacy. This includes delving into the theoretical foundations, strategically utilising digital tools, tackling ethical and legal dilemmas, and crafting effective digital diplomacy strategies.
Expected prerequisite knowledge

Assessment methods	The course grade, on a 100-point scale, will be assessed as follows: A. Class Attendance and Participation (20 points) Twenty (20) course grade points will be based on regular attendance and active participation. Students with no unexcused absences and who regularly participate in class discussions will earn 20 points. One unexcused absence and limited participation will earn 10 points. More than one unexcused absence and minimal participation will earn 0 points. Classroom participation will form an integral part of the course, and students will be expected to develop the ability to think clearly and critically, ask significant questions, and express their ideas logically and concisely. IMPORTANT: Regular participation is mandatory. B. Oral Presentation (30 points) Each student will sign up to deliver a brief oral presentation on one of the readings from the book/journals. A sign sheet will be made available in class, and the presentations will start by the third class session. The presentations will be a 5-minute review of key points in the chapter, followed by commentary/analysis, and help lead the class into a brief discussion. C. Final Exam (50 points) The final exam will consist of an essay (cca. Bt. 13-19 pages) that should reflect a clear understanding of the readings and ideas we considered throughout the semester. It should refer to some course reading materials, discussions, and videos. The essay paper is due by International Relations , and should be e-mailed directly (preferably in Word) to the instructors at dritero.arifi@ubt-uni.net Topics TBA. Students are encouraged to consult with the instructors if they need additional clarification. Please note that the final grade will reward improvement throughout the course.
